University of Cambridge

Can you or someone you know help with my study? I am conducting interviews to examine the lived experience of, and emotional impact on, people who have travelled for abortion care as part of my PhD. My research focus is on people who travelled from Ireland to the UK between 2008 and 2018* to seek termination of pregnancies. It incorporates my own experience of travel for cross-border abortion care. Interviews will last for 1 hour and can take place online or by phone.
