Field Evaluation

This study is for individuals or friends who take public transit at least 4x/week. You will play a location-based game on your mobile phone over a 4-week period. During this time, we'll ask you to play the game during your routine transit commute and complete a weekly questionnaire. At the end, we'll interview you for less than 30 minutes about your experience. Anybody over 18 years of age can participate but needs to reside in Greater Vancouver.
